

Aberdeen Standard SICAV I - Emerging Markets Infrastructure Equity Fund

A Acc Hedged EUR

Performance Data and Analytics to 30 June 2020

Summary investment objective

To achieve a combination of income and growth by investing mostly in shares of companies involved in infrastructure-related industries based and/or carrying out much of their business in emerging markets. These include energy and power, engineering and construction, electrical equipment, environmental services, materials, real estate development, resources, transportation and utilities, or in companies that provide funding for such activities. Emerging markets are typically countries that are still developing their economies.

Aberdeen Standard SICAV I - Emerging Markets Infrastructure Equity Fund

Important information

Risk factors you should consider before investing:

- The value of shares and the income from them can go down as well as up and you may get back less than the amount invested.
- Investing globally can bring additional returns and diversify risk. However, currency exchange rate fluctuations may have a positive or negative impact on the value of your investment.
- Emerging markets or less developed countries may face more political, economic or structural challenges than developed countries. This may mean your money is at greater risk.
- This Fund invests in a specialist sector and it will not perform in line with funds that have a broader investment policy.
- The Fund may invest directly or indirectly in Chinese domestic securities markets via various channels, including the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect programme or through any similar acceptable securities trading and clearing linked in relation to which the Fund may suffer difficulties or delays in proving it owns the China shares or enforcing its rights given that the legal and regulatory rules in each of Shanghai and Hong Kong are very different. Use of these channels therefore bring additional risks as further described in the Fund's Prospectus under "Investing in China".
- The Fund may invest in companies through a domestic legal structure (i.e. Variable Interest Entity or "VIE"), in order to gain access to industries with foreign ownership restrictions. There is a risk that investments in these structures may be adversely affected by changes in the legal and regulatory framework.
- Hedged share classes aim to provide you with a return that is as close as possible to the base currency performance of a Fund, by reducing the effect of exchange rate movements between the Fund base currency and the currency of the share class. This currency exposure is not related to the currency positions within the Fund's portfolio of investment and therefore could impact your return. Also, it is important to note that the techniques used in this share class have transaction costs which will reduce the value of your investment.

Please note the risk analytics figures are calculated on gross returns whereas the performance figures are based on net asset value (NAV) returns. In addition, the risk analytics figures lag the performance figures by one month. It should be noted that the figures provided regarding risk would be adjusted if fund fees and expenses were included.

Standard deviation measures historical volatility. Beta is a measure of the volatility of a portfolio in comparison to a benchmark index. Sharpe ratio measures risk-adjusted performance. Tracking error measures the divergence between the price behavior of a position or a portfolio and the price behavior of a benchmark. Information ratio is a ratio of portfolio returns above the returns of a benchmark to the volatility of those returns. R-squared is a statistical measurement that determines the proportion of a fund's return that can be explained by variations in the market, as measured by a benchmark index.
